

XIV World Forestry Congress

Forest Change and Transition in the Asia-Pacific Region

Exploring the Past, Present and Future

This event will discuss:

- Drivers of forest change and transition in the Asia-Pacific region
- Forest transition in Indonesian Borneo
- Positive and negative drivers of change in the Greater Mekong Subregion
- Close-to-nature forestry - a case study of rehabilitating monoculture plantations

18:15-19:30

9 September 2015

Meeting room 11AB

Catering will be provided

Program

18:15 • Introduction and opening remarks

Mr. Qu Guilin, APFNet Executive Director
Ms. Rosalie McConnell, Moderator

18:25 • Drivers of forest change and transition in the Asia-Pacific region

Dr. Wil de Jong, Kyoto University

18:35 • The case of forest transition in Indonesian Borneo

Dr. Ellyn Kathalina Damayanti, Southeast Asian Regional Center for Tropical Biology

18:45 • Positive and negative drivers of change affecting forests in GMS economies

Mr. Kenneth MacDicken, FAO

19:00 • Close-to-nature forestry – a case study of China's efforts at rehabilitating monoculture plantations

Dr. Liu Shirong, Chinese Academy of Forestry and IUFRO

19:15 • Q&A