Forests play a vital role

for rural communities as well as urban populations throughout the world. Their conservation and sustainable management are closely linked with global issues such as food security and environmental protection.

Scientific knowledge

is needed to effectively address these issues at local, regional and global levels to provide a sound basis for political decisions.

International cooperation

in forest science and related disciplines is required to enhance the capacity of forests to satisfy diverse human needs in a sustainable way.

IUFRO is "the" global network for forest science cooperation. It unites more than 15,000 scientists in 650 Member Organizations in over 110 countries.

IUFRO is open to all individuals and organizations dedicated to forest
and forest products research and related disciplines.
It is a non-profit, non-governmental and non-discriminatory organization with a long tradition dating back to 1892.

IUFRO is exceptional because it is the only world-wide international organization devoted to forests and related sciences.
It contributes to the promotion of science in the formulation of forest-related policies.

“Many solutions are in our forests!
IUFRO is able to work for the benefit of forests and people worldwide.”

Dr. Choi Wan Yong,
Director General,
Korea Forest Research Institute

The mission of IUFRO

is to promote global cooperation in forest-related research and to enhance understanding of the ecological, economic and social aspects of forests and trees, disseminate scientific knowledge to stakeholders and decision-makers and contribute to forest policy and on-the-ground forest management.

IUFRO attains its objectives

by networking activities for the generation, exchange and dissemination of scientific knowledge, by providing access to relevant information, and assisting scientists and institutions to strengthen their research capacities.

With your support

as an individual, institution, or organization you can make a significant contribution to strengthening vital forest-related research for the benefit of forests and people.

“IUFRO is unique. We are honoured to be a supporter of this global network.”

Mr. Markku Aho,
Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Finland
Department for Development Policy

IUFRO is unique

IUFRO pools forest-related scientific knowledge generated by research organizations, universities and individual scientists, decision-making authorities and other stakeholders.

IUFRO has developed a culture that inspires dedicated voluntary work towards achieving its mission.

IUFRO's activities involve permanent disciplinary Divisions, sub-divided into Research Groups and Working Parties, as well as a number of Task Forces, Special Programmes, Projects and Initiatives.

Scientific knowledge is generated and shared through international meetings, collaborative research, networking and a variety of publications.

“Investing in international forest research today,
will pay off tomorrow!”

Mr. Gerhard Mannsberger,
Director General, Austrian Federal Ministry for Agriculture,
Forestry, Environment and Water Management

With your support,

IUFRO and its members will:

- be able to respond more effectively to the fast-changing forest-related research needs;
- improve equity in gender, age and regional representation and strengthen scientific capacity;
- provide more scientific information and advice for international policy-making;
- expand communication within the scientific community and increase public awareness about the importance of forest science.
