SDG 17: Strengthen the means of implementation and revitalize the global partnership for sustainable development

David Humphreys, Benjamin Singer, Kathleen McGinley, Roy Smith, Jessica Budds, Mónica Gabay, Shonil Bhagwat, Wil de Jong, Helen Newing, Charlotte Cross and Poshendra Satyal

Approach

Divide the SDG into two separate components:

- Strengthen the means of implementation
- Revitalise the global partnership for sustainable development

Section 2: examines the available knowledge and data on strengthening Mol

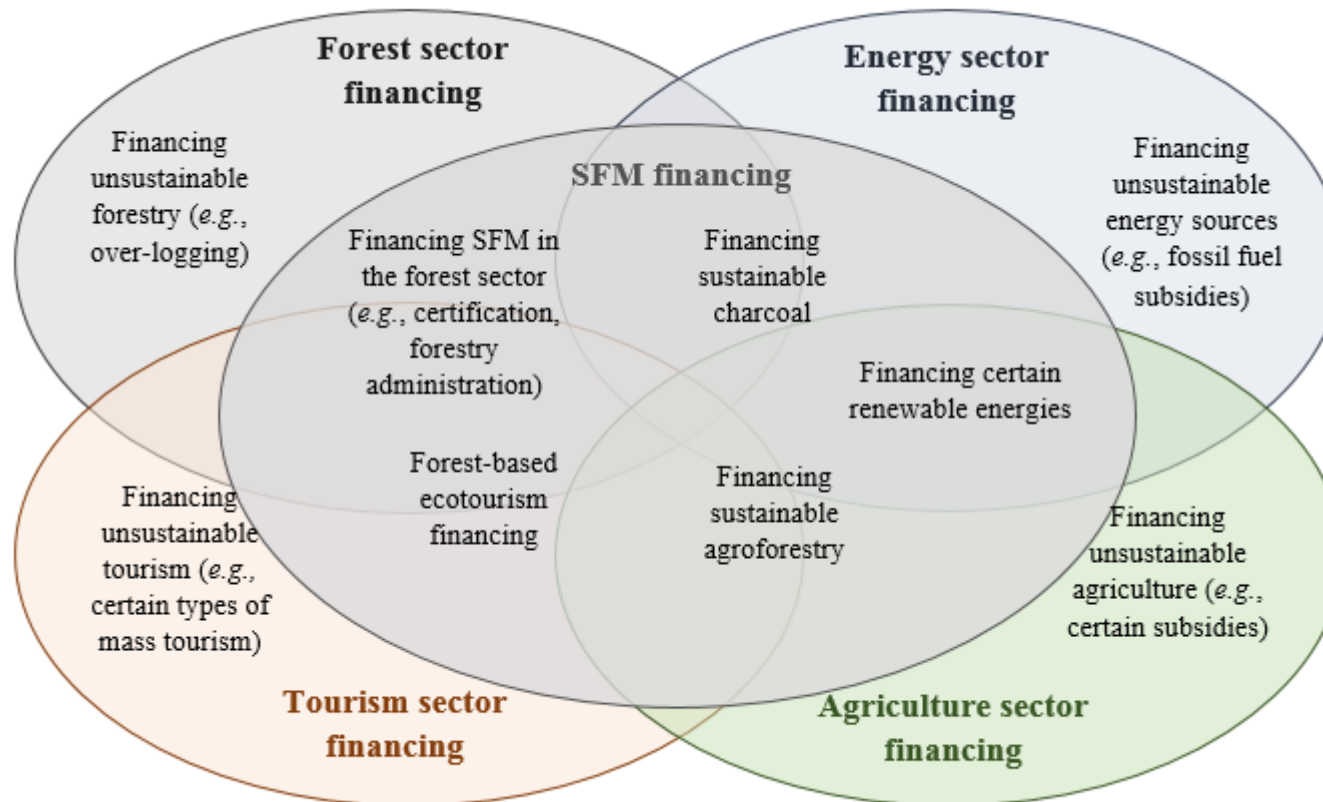

Section 3: examines the extent to which a revitalised global partnership is emerging. It examines both partnerships on both a geographical basis and a functional basis.

Section 4: makes the argument that (a) transfers to developing countries to improve Mol are less than net South-to-North financial flows (b) no global partnership for SD is emerging

Strengthen Mol

Distinction between:

- Forest financing
- SFM financing

Conclusions

- Forest financing is dwarfed by subsidies for other sectors such as agriculture
- Aid transfers to forest countries are negated by net south-to-north financial transfers
- There is no “global partnership for sustainable development”. There are partnerships promoting sustainable development – but they have relatively little impact relative to the global partnership promoting international trade and economic growth.
